

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
THE DIRECTOR OF INTELLIGENCE AND RESEARCH
WASHINGTON

CONFIDENTIAL

AUG 5 - 1960

Dear Allen:

The Department feels there is need for a Special National Intelligence Estimate on Haiti. Our substantial aid program there has been under severe pressure recently from the Duvalier regime. The regime, itself, is shaky and, of course, highly vulnerable to the consequences of possible imminent change in the Dominican Republic and related pressure from Castro's Cuba.

We have in mind an estimate which would deal with the present internal political and economic prospects of the country, including importantly, the composition and political outlook of the influential group surrounding Duvalier. An estimate of this sort would be of specific utility now. Timing would, therefore, suitably be urgent though not crash. We hope very much that the project can be undertaken.

Sincerely,

Hugh S. Cumming, Jr.
The Director of Intelligence and Research

The Honorable
Allen W. Dulles,
The Director of Central Intelligence,
Washington.
